

Achievements Of Scouts Here Are Reviewed

County Committee
Goes Over Program
And Plans For 1953

The Executive Committee of the Fayette District of the Boy Scouts of America reviewed the district's accomplishments during the past year and set goals for 1953 at their annual charter review meeting held Monday evening in the Washington Hotel.

Each of the six operating committee chairmen reported on the progress made by his committee and outlined plans for 1953.

Dewey Sheidler, chairman of organization and extension, reported that five new units were organized in 1952 and that the current boy membership was 314. By the end of 1953 he reported that his committee hopes to have 22 units actively serving 400 Cubs, Scouts and Explorers.

The chairman of leadership training, Lawrence Burris, reported that three training experiences were conducted during 1952 with 86 Scouts participating. Plans were being developed to provide basic training experiences for Cub Scout leaders and Scout leaders so that every adult Scout will have the opportunity to receive training in his field, he said.

THE CAMPING and activities committee report was given by Dr. Charles Griffiths. He announced that 58 boys in six units under the leadership of five adults attended summer camp. Highlights of the activity year said Griffiths, were the Council Camporal with 75 Scouts participating and the Operation Rescue field-day with 35 taking part.

Service projects undertaken by the district during 1952 were the distribution of publicity materials for the community chest and distribution of posters and door-knob-hangers for the "get-out-the-vote" campaign.

Primary objectives of the committee he outlined were assistance to units in programming so that each Cub Scout would have an active summer program and each Scout would have 10 days and nights camping during the year.

Robert Terhune, district chairman, reported the advancement record in the absence of an advancement chairman. He presented a chart showing that since June 83 boys have advanced in rank.

Four Explorer Scouts, he announced, will have completed the requirements for Eagle Rank by the end of the year.

PLANS FOR NEXT year are to secure an advancement chairman, publish a merit badge counselor list and to review and recognize Cub Scouts for their achievements.

Paul W. Handel, Scout executive of the Central Ohio Council, was present to review the council record and objectives and to guide the executive committee in the purposes of the national three-year program of the Boy Scouts of America which follows the theme, "Forward on Liberty's Team."

The main objectives of this program, he explained, are to help the boy, the Boy Scout movement and the nation become physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight. To help accomplish this aim, Handel proposed that each district set goals for increased functioning manpower, for an adventurous program and for facilities to extend the opportunity for Scouting to more boys.

Church Now Plans For Vesper Service

Plans for a special Vesper service at the First Baptist Church here Dec. 28 today were in fairly complete form. Only the usual last-minute details remain to be smoothed out, Mrs. Robert E. Willis, who has charge of it, said.

Coming, as it does, three days after Christmas, Mrs. Willis said the services would be in the nature of a sacred concert.

The program is being developed around the two church choirs—the senior choir of 23 voices and the youth choir which is about half that size. David Foster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Foster, of Bloomingburg, is the accompanist for the choirs.

But, there are to be several soloists on the program. One of them is to be Ronald Hodge, the youthful soprano of the Dayton Boys Choir. Ross Reimuller, the choir accompanist, is to come with him to play the accompaniment for his solos here.

Other soloists for the service will be Mrs. Richard R. Willis, Jr., Miss Clarabelle Robinson and Robert P. Browning, all members of the senior choir.

Ohioans Sought In Assault Case

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C. (AP) — Police reported today an argument over the custody of an 11-month-old girl has led to three charges of assault with deadly weapons against two Canton, O., brothers.

Police Chief L. F. Worrell said the brothers being sought are Taylor E. Williams and Earl Williams. He said the brothers appeared at the home of Taylor Williams' estranged wife, Leora, 18, Saturday and demanded she give them the couple's baby, Sharon. When she refused, the brothers threatened her and two others at the house with a pistol and brass knuckles, the chief said. The brothers then left with the baby, he added.

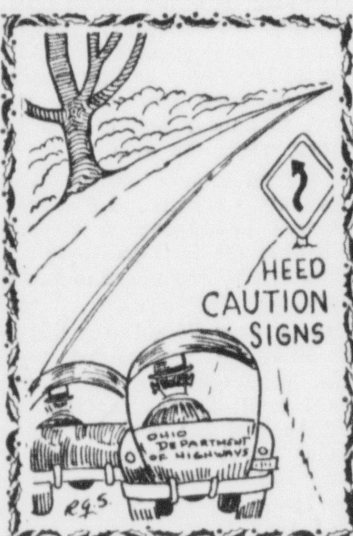

Worrell said the couple separated several months ago at Canton.

Kefauver Sees Adlai As Demo Titular Head

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.), whose bid for the Democratic presidential nomination fell short, said today he recognized Gov. Adlai Stevenson as the party's nominal head, but with no authority to dictate or determine party policy.

Kefauver said he would recommend that the Democrats rely heavily on their national committee to chart policy with the aid of a special new committee of some sort. He said the chairman of the national committee might also head the special policy group.

Of Stevenson, who headed off Kefauver's front-running bid for the party nomination and then lost in the election, Kefauver said: "Stevenson as the defeated nominee is the titular head of the party."

"However, he has no right or in himself to dictate or determine party policy. That is for a policy committee—the national committee and its executive committee, and perhaps others. But his views should carry a lot of weight in policy consultations."

In that view, Kefauver differed in degree from Sen. Maybank (D-SC), who has said he does not acknowledge Stevenson as the party leader. Among other reasons, Maybank said he thinks Democratic members of Congress, by the nature of their jobs, will establish in day-to-day votes much of the policy on which the party's 1956 standard bearer will have to run.

Bring Clothing, Food and Toys To The State Theatre and See A Free Show!! Help To Make Someone's Christmas Merry!!

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (P)—The government's top Loyalty Review Board has decided there is reasonable doubt about the loyalty of John Carter Vincent, for 27 years a career diplomat in the State Department.

The 53-year-old Vincent was suspended at once by the State Department and ordered home from his post as American minister in Tangier. President Truman will go over his case with Secretary of State Acheson.

Vincent's trouble goes back into the 1940s when he was one of the State Department's main advisers on dealing with China, both Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist government and the Chinese Communists.

The review board did not say Vincent was disloyal. It simply said there was reasonable doubt about his loyalty.

The board, whose hearings and investigations are not made public, will probably not explain how, and on what evidence, it reached its decision about Vincent.

But, unless it reveals more than it has so far, his case will remain as confusing as it has for the past three years.

In 1950 he was accused of being a Communist by ex-Communist Louis Budenz and of being pro-Communist by Sen. McCarthy.

A Senate committee investigated McCarthy's charges and cleared Vincent and others. This was a subcommittee of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee headed by the then Sen. Tydings of Maryland.

This year the Senate's internal security subcommittee, headed by Sen. McCarran, Nevada Democrat, began to examine Vincent's case. He appeared before the committee and denied that he was a Communist or pro-Communist.

That was last Jan. 30. On Feb. 19 the State Department's own Loyalty Review Board, which investigated Vincent on its own, "completely cleared" him.

But on July 2 the McCarran committee issued a report blasting Vincent. It didn't say he was a Communist but it did indicate he had been a big help to international communism in influencing public opinion.

Although cleared by his own State Department loyalty board, this was not the end for Vincent. The top Loyalty Review Board has the right to go over any case

Yule Services At St. Andrew's Church Planned

Service Of Carols And Scripture Reading Sunday

The last Sunday of Advent will be marked by a special pre-Christmas service of carols and Scripture at St. Andrew's Protestant Episcopal Church next Sunday at 9 A. M. in the church.

This service will be characterized by the reading of the Prophecy foretelling the coming of Christ, the account of the birth of Christ and the adoration of the shepherds from the Gospel of Saint Luke, the coming of the Wise Men from the Gospel of Saint Matthew and the reading of the traditional Christmas Gospel from the first chapter of the Gospel of Saint John. Readers will be Briggs Gamblee, Robert Lisk, George Spettigue, Otis Core and Winston Hill Jr.

Following each reading of the Scripture, carols will be sung by the choir and congregation which tell these stories in song. Some of the more interesting carols which will be sung are: "Puer Nobis Nascitur" a 15th century Latin carol; "What Child is This?" a 14th century English carol sung to the tune called "Greensleeves," which has recently been popularized by the R. Vaughn Williams setting of this haunting melody; "Les Anges Dans Nos Compagnes," an 18th century French carol of the angelic song; "Veni Emmanuel," the Advent hymn from the 6th century, which sings in anticipation of the coming of the Christ to a beautifully solemn melody.

IN ADDITION to these, the popular carols, "Adeste Fideles," "O Little Town of Bethlehem," "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing," "Silent Night," will be sung. The children will sing "Luther's Cradle Hymn," as their offering.

The choir will present Joseph Curry's arrangement of "Stille Nacht, Heilige Nacht," with festival alleluias. Soloists for the "Carol of the Three Kings," will be Gam-passed upon by a department loyalty board and either agree with its findings or reach an opposite conclusion.

Board and Room

By Gene Ahern

blee as Caspar, Rev. Sanford Lindsey as Melchior and Winston Hill, Sr. as Balthazar.

Clarence Barger is the organist and choir director.

The public is cordially invited to share this preparation for the Christmas Eve Festival Holy Communion on Dec. 24 at 9:30 P. M.

The church school Christmas celebration will be held after the children have sung their carol in the carol service.

The Christmas tree, which the children have decorated with handmade ornaments and popcorn-cranberry strings, will be lighted as they sing their carols of welcome to the Christ Child. The Christmas Manger will be put in place with the Wise Men standing far off in the corner of the table.

Each day until the Epiphany (which the church marks as the day of the coming of the Wise Men) the children will move the Wise Men a little closer to the Manger and the Christ Child.

On Jan. 6, which is the Feast of the Epiphany or the coming of the Wise Men, a Fest of Lights service will mark the official end of the Christmas-Epiphany celebrations.

Loyalty Oath Rule Outlawed By Top Court

WASHINGTON (P)—The Supreme Court today struck down Oklahoma's loyalty oath law on the ground that it penalizes persons who might have joined subversive organizations innocently.

The law requires state officers and employees to swear they are not affiliated with the Communist party or any other organization that advocates violent overthrow of government. It also requires a promise to take up arms in defense of the United States.

Justice Clark, who wrote the court's main opinion, said:

"Indiscriminate classification of innocent with knowing activity must fall as an assertion of arbitrary power. The oath offends due process."

Justices Black and Frankfurter wrote separate concurring opinions. Justice Jackson took no part in the case, making the vote 8 to 0. Validity of the law was questioned by seven former teachers of the Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical College.

The prison system for punishment of criminals did not begin until toward the end of the 18th Century, although isolated prisons were used earlier.

Korean War Costs 2 Million Casualties To Both Sides

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (P)—The Korean war has cost more than two million military casualties to both sides, according to the best information available.

The figure is based on official announcement of losses by the Allies and estimates by the high command of losses suffered by the Communists.

Of the 2,129,310 military casualties, 364,370 have been suffered by UN forces and the remaining 1,764,940 are estimated to have been borne by the Communists, mostly by the Chinese Reds.

The figures do not include civilians, estimated in the tens of thousands. They do not cover all the fighting, especially over the last 60 days of bitter war for the peaks of Central Korea, primarily between Chinese and Republic of South Korea troops.

Estimates available to non-Communist sources say the Chinese Communists have suffered 795,119 killed and wounded.

North Korean killed and wounded were estimated at 497,768, making a total of 1,292,887 for the Communist in those categories.

This sum is increased to 1,641,887 by counting another 349,000 non-battle casualties—including Communist troops wiped out by plagues and illness the Communists have been unable to combat.

In addition, North Korean prisoners are announced at 102,053 and Chinese Communist prisoners at 21,000, for a total of 123,053.

The UN total of killed and wounded is 283,579, of which the ROK total is 158,678 and the U. S. total is 114,661. The other 15 countries with fighting forces have sustained a total of 10,240 killed and wounded.

UN prisoner and missing lists total 80,701, of which the ROK number 66,102, the U. S. 12,997, other UN members 1,602.

7 Persons Killed In Indiana Fire

WINAMAC, Ind. (P)—Two young mothers and five children died

Monday in a burning, smokefilled home in Winamac.

The victims were trapped in the two-story home when an oil burner burst into flames and filled the rooms with dense smoke.

The only person to escape was the owner, Albert Crissinger, who jumped from a second story window.

Crissinger's wife Margaret, 24, and their three children, Patty, 4; Danny Lee, 3, and Jackie, 13 months, died in the fire along with Crissinger's two sisters and a nephew. The latter three were Mrs. Jane Hanson, 23, and her son, Albert, 8; and Dorothy May Crissinger, 10.

Women Workers Increase In Important Jobs

When the ordinary shopper or other observer makes a visit to the stores, or has occasion to visit a business office, or even go into a factory in Washington C. H., he or she cannot help being impressed with the number of women who are doing responsible jobs.

The same situation exists all over the country according to reports and this brings up the thought that women are playing an increasingly important part in our national economy, not only as purchasing housewives but in gainful employment.

It is now indicated, according to the 1952 reports from the women's bureau of the federal Department of Labor, that one-third of girls and women above the age of 14, are actual workers drawing pay. The grand total of women workers is placed at 19,000,000, an increase over 1951 of half a million.

It is a surprise to most people to learn that women now drawing salaries constitute approximately 30 percent of the entire salaried working force of the country. Predictions are that this percentage is more likely to increase than decrease.

The pay awards to men and boys are higher and this accounts for the increasing pressure for equal pay although efforts toward securing legislation to this effect has, not as yet, met with much favorable reaction in legislative bodies.

Men's pay checks are reported to average $77.61 weekly against $47.06 for women. More than one-fifth of the women workers are domestic employees. Half of the employed women hold clerical or factory jobs, but one-tenth are professional or technical workers, and that includes the vast school teaching force.

That women may be expected to occupy more and more of the higher range posts seems to be indicated by their improving educational status. For example, in 1950 there was one woman college student to every two men. That year one woman to every three men received a college degree. A postwar phenomenon has been the number of married women who remained in employment and the number of new ones who entered it, with husbands and wives both contributing to the family income.

Many have enjoyed financial independence, wider outlook and business and social contacts. Nothing but lack of employment due to business recession could make most of them feel "woman's place is in the home."

Future In Business

Industrialists and businessmen generally are turning their thoughts toward the new year, and economic developments that may affect their interests. As always, volume is the bogey against which all predictions must be compared.

Business has a fetish for always wanting to do more business this year than last. In fact, an increase is all but mandatory under present conditions, if payrolls and taxes are to be met. This calls for increasing both sales and production.

Business in 1953, then, must at least equal the volume of 1952 to be satisfactory.

There is no unanimous opinion among executives concerning business prospects for the new year. Some are convinced it will be a good year, but others are less optimistic. All agree that business volume in the first half of 1953 will be satisfactory, but some are pessimistic about the remainder of the year.

Why any slump might rear its head in midyear seems somewhat obscure. Many factors will affect the nation's economy during the months ahead. Certain adjustments must be made here at home. Outcome of the Korean war will have a vital effect on business as well as other aspects of American life.

Fortunately, there are no underlying factors which can be pointed to as harbingers of a recession. The whole economy should be able to withstand a few hard jolts without throwing in the sponge. Nothing can happen to American business that courage and good management cannot overcome.

What Lies Ahead of 1952?

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—This is the time when most people like to take a backward look and weigh the gains and losses of a waning year.

What happened to you in '52? Historians assess a year by the mighty changes that take place in it, but most people remember it on a personal basis. A little girl may always remember 1952 as the year she took her first steps into a brave new world—kindergarten.

An older girl may recall it as the period of crisis during which she finally made up her mind to dye her hair red.

For most of us a year is made memorable by how it touched us rather than in the way it affected the destiny of nations. A boy who put on long pants for the first time is more likely to remember 1952 for that reason than the fact that Britain lost a king and gained a queen.

By and large, 1952 has been a year of watchful waiting and gathering tension rather than one of tremendous and dramatic decision, except in the field of domestic politics.

There the deep disquiet among the American people created a victory for Dwight Eisenhower, but the real results of that political earthquake cannot be known before 1953.

No stars collided in the heavens, but a potential H-bomb weapon was exploded in the Pacific. And what is the full meaning of that? We do not yet know.

New rumblings of unrest stirred in the teeming millions of Africa and Asia. The war in Korea coiled deeper in its long stalemate.

The average man earned more money and paid more taxes in 1952 than he ever had before. The nation as a whole ate higher on the hog than at any previous time in its history.

As a people we were probably never better off. But despite the fact we had more money to spend, and more gadgets to buy, we weren't particularly happy about our prosperity. We worried, "How long will it last?"

It has been a restless and uneasy 12 months, probably because we weren't sure whether the world was teetering toward peace or tottering toward war. The yearning for some kind of certainty and security grew among us.

Probably years and years from now most of us will look back at 1952 and wonder, "Why wasn't I more grateful? It was a good time."

But right now the average man feels that in 1952 he only grew a little older, grayer, wearier—and more puzzled. He had a job, he ate well, he bought a new car or television set. But he still holds a vague resentment against 1952 because it didn't give him a clear answer to the main problem on his mind—what lies ahead?

How Do Americans Get UN Jobs?

By George Sokolsky

Men do not get jobs in high places without being recommended. Someone opens the door for them. In the case of Americans employed by the United Nations, someone got the jobs for them; some one screened them from the standpoint of security. The reason that Adrian S. Fisher, Legal Advisor to the State Department, has been called before the Federal Grand Jury in New York and the McCarran Committee is because it was assumed that he, as the law officer of the State Department, could tell how this is done. Also called were John D. Hickerson, Assistant Secretary of State for UN Affairs and Carlisle H. Humelsine, Deputy Under Secretary for Administration.

The United Nations employs a large staff of all types of administrators, heads of departments, down to janitors and caretakers. Some of these persons come in by examination on a kind of civil service. Others are hired because of their reputations and known skills. They represent many nations and speak of themselves as international officials.

There seems to be a quota system, so many allotted to each country to prevent any one country from having a monopoly. All countries, except the United States, can control their own personnel in the United Nations by simple passport arrangements. In a word, if they do not want a man or woman to be employed by the United Nations, no passport is granted. On the other hand, because the United Nations is situated in New York, no American needs a passport to go to the United Nations. Therefore, this device is available to every member state of the United Nations except the United States.

All Russians, Poles, Ukrainians, and others of the satellite groups who are employed in the United Nations are directly appointed by their own delegations. A few old-time anti-Communist Czechs remain and that is often used as an exhibit of freedom from control. The State Department, however maintains that it does not appoint Americans; in fact, it insists that it keeps its hands off such matters. How does it happen that so many in the big jobs have formerly been employed in one department or other of the government of the United States, and some of them, by the State Department? How does it happen that many who were fired from our government as security risks, found their way into the United Nations? Who opened the door for them?

Further, it has been stated to those seeking to discover the facts that if the United Nations requires security information from any government, it is possible to get the facts officially in a very short time, perhaps within a fortnight. The return of requested data from the State Department is always delayed. Why the delay? Who is responsible for the delay? Even now, after Trygve Lie has dismissed 18 Americans who have demonstrated that they are security risks, the State Department remains non-cooperative with the McCarran Committee which has not been witch-hunting in any respect, but has caught the subversive devils red-handed, some of them fearing to testify as to whether they have engaged in espionage lest they incriminate themselves.

The McCarran Committee will continue its investigation after General Eisenhower has become President of the United States. Senator William Langer, who will head the Judiciary Committee, has already announced that this will be the policy of his Committee. Senator Homer Ferguson will be in charge of the Subcommittee investigating subversion.

Senator Ferguson, having a logical mind, is bound to ask the questions herein outlined. Otherwise, the investigation makes no sense. True, there is some excitement in discovering Americans in the United Nations who will not speak about espionage without fearing that they will incriminate themselves. But that is not enough.

From the standpoint of a legislative committee, what is important is not to "get" anybody, but rather to find the process by which the security of the country is imperiled and to pass legislation plugging up the holes. The attitude of State Department has thus far been to run interference for the subversives. This question may roll over into Senator Wiley's Committee of Foreign Relations, which supervises the State Department, and Senator McCarthy's Committee on Executive Expenditures.

With these committees cooperating to get at the process, the State Department will ultimately be forced to disclose the truth, no matter who is involved and how long it takes. Copyright 1951, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Surgery Now Aided By Use Of New Drugs

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Quick and safe methods to control bleeding are considered among the great advances in present-day surgery—on a par with modern anesthesia. Recently, specialists in anesthesia have perfected the use of drugs which lower the blood pressure during operations, thus giving even greater control over bleeding.

In some types of would, it is good for the bleeding to be free. In others, especially during operations, too large a blood loss can endanger the patient. Bleeding can also interfere with the work of the surgeon.

Difficult to Control

For these reasons, doctors have sought for many years to reduce the bleeding during surgery. In certain operations the loss of blood becomes very important, and is very difficult to control.

Lowering the blood pressure by these new methods is particularly helpful in certain types of brain surgery where bleeding is profuse.

The new drugs have also been used in the recently developed fenestration operation, which restores hearing when deafness is due to a hardening of the bone in the ear. This operation is often complicated by much bleeding.

Cut Down Transfusions

Frequent transfusions to replace massive loss of blood also become unnecessary when the new drugs are used. Blood transfusions, while often life-saving, may also flood the patient with substances foreign to his blood.

These drugs act by working on the sympathetic nervous system, a group of nerves around the spine which regulate the blood pressure. They may be injected directly into the spinal canal, or else into the blood stream. Usually the patient does not have any post-operative complications from this temporary drop in his blood pressure.

Spectacular Result

The absence of bleeding with this type of anesthesia is spectacular. It is amazing that even blood vessels cut in the course of such an operation do not bleed.

The dark blood from the veins might ordinarily cause the surgeon alarm for his patient, but will prove life-saving in many cases.

Large hospitals are now staffed with skilled anesthetists who are trained to use these new methods when necessary—methods which will prove life-saving in many cases.

Building Site Asked by Co. M

Request Is Made
To Commissioners

Lieut. Don Wood, commander of Company M of the Ohio National Guard unit here, has appeared before the county commissioners asking their help in locating an acre of county-owned ground on which the state could erect for Company M a building to house its equipment and motor vehicles.

Lieut. Wood said he had been in conference with military officers of the ONG and that they had indicated they would pay for the erection of the garage to house with the equipment and hoped to add more buildings later.

The state, it was said, was impressed on the record of Company M that Wood presented.

A rating of excellent has been awarded to the company for the past two years on its federal inspection. It is regarded as one of the biggest and best outfits in the state.

Lieut. Wood also said there should be sufficient grounds that a military gymnasium could be erected at a later date. This addition would probably depend, at least in part, on local contributions.

The county commissioners are to make investigation to locate a site. The state recommended the land should be close to the city limits or not far away.

Lieut. Wood said he was going to have another conference with the state military officials.

Several Are Fined In Municipal Court

On a charge of driving while drunk, Richard M. Ackley, city, was fined $200 and costs, given 10 days in jail and suspended from driving for one year. He was also required to pay $15 for a blood test to determine his condition.

At the same session of court, Charles Counts, on a disorderly conduct charge, was fined $25 and costs but the entire amount was suspended on condition that he does not violate any law for one year.

Clarence H. Dett, city, drew a fine of $50 and costs on a charge of operating a motor vehicle with improper license plates and $25 and costs on charge of operating a motor vehicle with improper registration sticker which was owned by another person. The latter fine was suspended.

Most of the traffic violators failed to appear and forfeited their bonds.

37th Division Releases To Start Aug. 14

CAMP POLK, La. (P)—The Army has announced it will start next Aug. 14 to release Ohio National Guardsmen in the 37th Division who haven't re-enlisted.

All National Guards officers and men must be released by Jan. 14, 1954, when the division's two years of federal service will be completed, the Army said.

About 3,000 officers and men, who were called up during an "alert period" from Sept. 12, 1951 to Jan. 14, 1952, must be discharged when they complete 24 months active service.

The Army said the discharge policy will apply to all guardsmen in the division, whether in Camp Polk, other U. S. camps or overseas.

Less than half of the men ordered to active duty with the 37th are still at Camp Polk, the Army announced. Some have been discharged and some have been ordered overseas as individual replacements. More than two-thirds of the officers called up with the division have been ordered overseas, the Army said.

Ohio GI Labeled Sane At Hearing

FRANKFURT, Germany (P)—An Army psychiatrist testified today Pvt. Eugene Walters was "sane and responsible" when he allegedly abducted and molested a teenage American girl.

Walters, 29-year-old combat veteran from Harrod, Ohio, went on trial before a U. S. Army court martial of eight officers and four enlisted men. He is accused of holding 18-year-old Mamie Ruth Shelton prisoner in a stolen car and making indecent approaches to her at gunpoint. He has denied the charge but will not enter a formal plea until the sanity issue is decided.

Reward Sought for Gov. Warren

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16—Western friends of Gov. Earl Warren will place his name before President-elect Eisenhower as their choice for the next vacancy on the U. S. Supreme Court in the belief that this booming section of the country deserves greater representation and recognition on the high tribunal. It is expected that there will be an opening on this bench before he finishes his term in Sacramento.

Warren deserves well at the hands of the next chief executive. Although the Californian has won a reputation as a political "lone wolf," rarely giving active support to local or national candidates on the GOP ticket, he extended himself in the recent campaign. Moreover, he was not too happy over Ike's selection of Senator Nixon for second place, about which he was not consulted.

HISTORIC CASES — Although Justice Frankfurter is now eligible to quit with full retirement privileges, it is doubtful if there will be a court shakeup during the present session. The nine members are sitting in at the preliminary hearings of two historic cases, and their participation amounts to a moral commitment to complete these assignments.

These contest involve the constitutionality of segregation in elementary schools, and the dispute over whether the United Nations Charter and decisions take precedence over state laws. Ironically, the latter controversy has been precipitated by California's enactment of legislation barring Japanese from owning property in that state.

Frankfurter, as a former professor of law at Harvard, is keenly interested in these problems, for it is recognized that they are two of the most momentous and vexing ones to reach the court in recent years. But his friends will not be surprised if he steps down at their conclusion.

IKE'S OUTLOOK — Although lawyers and jurists deprecate the selection of Supreme Court members on the sole basis of political geography, western interests insist that they should enjoy greater voice and influence on this body. And they believe that their best chance to achieve their end is under the Texas-born and Kansas-raised Eisenhower. He is supposed to possess a "western outlook."

For instance, he chose a Californian as his running-mate. He named Gov. Douglas McKay of Oregon as secretary of the interior. He picked Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby of Texas for Federal Security Administrator, a post that may be elevated to Cabinet rank.

In several Cabinet selections, notably Wilson, Humphrey and Durkin, he has shifted the center of governmental gravity from Roosevelt's New York and Truman's Kansas City. Ike has kept his campaign pledge to frame a "national Cabinet."

CONSIDERATION — In presenting their judicial claims, western spokesmen point out that their area's development, during and since World War II, entitle them to greater consideration than ever before, especially in bench selections. They submit evidence that the West has not always had a sympathetic hearing with respect to such problems as tide-lands, mineral matters, railroad rates, oil expansion, timber, water power, grazing lands, etc.

An analysis of Supreme Court personnel since 1870, when expansion beyond the Mississippi and the Rockies exceeded earlier expectations, supports this contention. The present court, for instance, has three men from the Northeast, four from the South and two from the Midwest.

It is true that Justice Douglas originally hailed from Minnesota and has spent considerable time in Washington, while Justice Clark comes from Texas. But Douglas was named from Connecticut, and his adult and legal roots stem from New York and Washington state. Moreover, the interests of Clark's Texas do not always accord with those of the Pacific and trans-mountain territory.

DISCRIMINATION — The westerners' pro-Warren brief reveals that this discrimination in top judicial appointments has been an ancient and persistent thing at Washington. It did not begin with FDR and Truman because of their strange partiality toward professors, former Capitol Hill cronies and "lame ducks" to mention a few of the categories who now wear black robes every Monday during sessions.

Since 1870, 24 of the 51 appointees to the Supreme Court were named from six states, as follows: New York (7), Massachusetts (5), Connecticut (2), New Jersey (2), Pennsylvania (3), Ohio (5). Regionally, there have been 19 from the northeast, 13 from the south, nine from the middle west and ten from the west.

In this analysis, the west is regarded as territory beyond the Mississippi. From what is known as the far west, there have been only three members. They were Field of California, named by Lincoln; McKimley's appointment of McKenna of California; and Harding's selection of Sutherland of Utah. Thus there have been periods when the west was not represented on the court for many long years, and then by only one individual.

No chief justice has had a western background. The seven who served since 1870 were from New York (2), Ohio (2), Illinois

LWV Members Combine Meeting With Yule Party And Diversified Interests

The League of Women Voters of Fayette County held its regular monthly meeting at the hospitable home of Miss Dorothea Gaut on Monday afternoon. This primarily was a business meeting with important decisions to be considered, yet in the end it translated itself into a merry Christmas party, with diversified interests.

The president, Mrs. Paul S. Craig, presided at the meeting and satisfactory reports were given by the secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Jean S. Nisley, of the finance committee reported that on Saturday, January 17, the league will hold a food sale at the office of the Korn Insurance Company on West Court Street.

Mrs. C. C. Marine, of the Voters Service warned that we should begin right now, by a process of education, to prepare for the next election. The president, Mrs. S. Craig, gave a review of the meeting of the state executive board and delegates from other leagues, held in Columbus on November 19 to choose items for legislative emphasis during the 1953 session of the Ohio Legislature. Items chosen for top priority are: (1) Four year term for certain elected officers; (2) Committee to study Constitution revision; (3) An appointive Judiciary.

Mrs. Craig read a letter from the Ohio Planning Conference inviting the local league to join its membership. It was voted to consult the State League before doing so. Mrs. Rankin Paul, chairman of the legislative committee read a letter from Mrs. Fred Davis, State chairman of legislation, asking the cooperation of the local league in interviewing legislators, and in visiting sessions of the Ohio Legislature. The president appointed as a nominating committee: Mrs. Minnette Fritts, Mrs. Hugh Smith, and Miss Alberta Coffman.

During the social hour which followed, Mrs. Ralph Penn, who with Mr. Penn, has just returned from Guatemala, capital of the republic of the same name in South America, gave a most interesting talk. Mrs. Penn is a magnetic speaker. She displayed many fine souvenirs. She captivated her audience by the story of a country where there is perpetual springtime—an entirely different world from that in which we live. She told the story of a primitive and happy people. Some Indians live in Guatemala, but they are small and dark, entirely unlike the American Indian with which we are familiar.

The women of Guatemala go barefoot, while wearing the most exquisitely woven hand-made clothing with great quantities of silver jewelry. They carry their babies on their backs, and heavy filled baskets on their heads. There are cement-built community laundries where women laugh and sing together while washing clothing with cold water and no soap. They have an immense built-in community washboard. Kitchens are primitive, with charcoal or wood fires. The food is strange and unpredictable, but very good. The streets and houses are clean and sanitary. The Penns visited other Southern countries among which Mexico, with its grand old cathedrals, is outstanding.

Light refreshments, suggestive of the Christmas season were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Paul S. Craig, Mrs. John P. Case, and Miss Dorothea Gaut.

Federal Debt Whittling To Be Slow Job

Expert Economists Warn Against Any 'Heroic' Reduction

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—The burden of the mounting federal debt—which helps keep your tax bill high—is being tackled by a group of economists.

They say the 267 billion dollar federal debt can't be retired completely within generations. But they do think it can be whittled down.

The group of university, business and labor economists form a special committee for the Twentieth Century Fund, a non-profit foundation for economic research.

Their report, out today, is likely to touch off a debate among businessmen.

The committee holds that the huge federal debt, if properly managed, need not be feared. And the committee insists the debt can be managed to maintain high employment and stable prices.

Many businessmen, however, think the federal government's budget should be run like a family budget—if a family consistently lives beyond its means and continues to go further into debt, its financial future can scarcely be called healthy.

The committee does urge that the federal debt be reduced. But it warns against any "heroic debt reduction" that would threaten deflation of the price level.

Instead it suggests Congress direct the Treasury to adopt a policy of whittling down the debt three per cent each year when unemployment is less than five per cent of the labor force and when the consumer price index hasn't fallen more than one per cent during the preceding six months.

And it suggests "an automatic 10 per cent rise in the rate of withholding tax when employment is high" as the way to get the money to cut the debt—a suggestion that workers won't find very pleasant.

The committee feels, however, that when employment is falling off and prices are skidding it's no time to tinker with the debt, and taxes should be cut.

Yearly Road Cost Set At $55 Million

Greeting Card Expert Says Old Fashions Stage Comeback

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Women's Editor
Dorothy Simmons remembers Christmas at grandmother's house, the jingle of sleighbells in the snow, the garlands of pine and holly in the great Victorian hall, the spicy odors of mince pies and fruit cake from the old-fashioned ovens, flames leaping in the old fireplace and, best of all, the wonderland of Christmas morning, with toys and packages piled high around the glittering Christmas tree.

All of these happy memories of the childhood wonder of Christmas she puts into her Christmas cards, which sell by the millions throughout the U. S. A.

And that may be the reason Dorothy Simmons is considered one of the foremost greeting card artists in the world today.

This dainty, sophisticated-looking little woman, with prematurely white hair and exquisite clothes, lives in an apartment in the heart of Manhattan, overlooking the East River and the glittering shops of 57th St. She was born and reared in New York City, but the Christmas holidays of her childhood were spent at her grandmother's old-fashioned home in a tiny village in the Pocono Mountains. She says:

"I can close my eyes and see the sleigh and horses waiting at the little station, feel again the excitement of the jingling ride through the snow, see the lights in the old house as we drew near and hear the laughter in my grandmother's voice as she welcomed her family home."

Dorothy Simmons' most popular Christmas cards are her madonnas, which seem to have a special radiance. She says:

"I always read the Bible story of the birth of Christ before I start to paint a madonna card. I remember that the madonna was very young, and that she loved her baby."

The trend in Christmas cards today is toward the old-fashioned card with real Christmas sentiment, says Dorothy. She adds: "The era of the flippant angel is out. Nowadays people seem to want cards that express the traditional feeling of Christmas."

Brandenburg Force At Christmas Party

Close to 100 employees and their families and friends attended the Christmas party held by the Ray Brandenburg Motor Sales Inc. and Don's Auto Sales. It was held in the garage part of the Brandenburg Motor Sales.

Ray Brandenburg, the proprietor, introduced the guests at the party. Wayne Bower introduced the new employees who have joined the staff at the Brandenburg Motor Sales within the last year and Dale Ward those of Don's Auto Sales.

The employees of both garages presented Brandenburg, Bower and Ward, who manages Don's with Christmas gifts. The employees were also presented with gifts.

The program for the party was: A song, "Away in a Manger" by Toni Lynn Ward, Donnie Fortier and Patricia McCoy; a song, "Jesus Loves Me" by Judy Lee Ward; song and dance, "Balling the Jack" by Beverly and Mary Lou Athey; a song, "Rudolph" by Kerrylin Hopewell; a song, "Bill Bailey Won't You Please Come Home" by Chris Bower; a song, "Jesus Loves Me" by Stephen and Michele Stemple; a song, "Jingle Bells" by Billie McCoy; a song by Mary Lou Hackett and a medley of songs by L. O. Hill, Clarence Hackett, Wayne Bower, Ralph Hickman and Byron Tracey conducted by Sam Athey.

Each year the program presentation alternates between the women and the men of the garages. The men had charge of the program this year and they presented a takeoff on the television program, "I've got A Secret." Brandenburg was the moderator. The show was hilarious.

The party was closed with a gift exchange.

Guests at the party were Mrs. Yvonne Duff, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Fortier, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fortier and children, Donnie and Tommy Joe; Mr. and Mrs. Dale Smith and son, Mickey, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bower, Mr. and Mrs. Todd Ward and Mrs. Leona Dadds all of Washington C. H.

Conservancy Plan Is Battled Anew

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Delaware and Union County officials—ardent foes of the Scioto-Sandusky Conservancy District—started another attempt to kill it off Monday. Commissioners of the two counties filed with the clerk of courts in Franklin County a motion to dissolve the 17-county district.

Both counties filed a motion to dissolve with the 17-judge conservancy court last year. The court denied the motion and the ruling was upheld by the Second District Court of Appeals.

Among other things, officials of the two counties say the huge flood-control program proposed for the Scioto River is too costly, isn't worth what it costs and is illegal.

The district embraces the watersheds of the Scioto and Sandusky Rivers, stretching from Lake Erie to the Ohio River.

3 Chillicotheans Get Postal OKs

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Service Commission announced today the three eligible candidates for the postmastership at Chillicothe, Ohio. They are Paul Frederick Ralston, William Franklin Imnell and Charles Henry McCarthy, acting postmaster. There were 22 applicants for the job.

President Truman now may appoint any one of the three eligibles but he probably won't. Since Senate confirmation would be required and the Republicans will have a majority in the Senate after the new Congress meets Jan. 3, he is likely to permit the appointments to be made by President-elect Eisenhower.

Permit Needed

COLUMBUS (AP)—You must have a bill of sale before you haul five or more Christmas trees or 100 pounds or more of boughs within Ohio, the state department of natural resources warns.

Poor Briton Says His Pay Figures Low

LONDON (AP)—Listen to this Briton's gripes and try to guess what his job is.

"I work over 100 hours a week and after expenses have been deducted my salary works out at about two shillings (28 cents) an hour."

"Laborers and charwomen (cleaning women) are better treated."

Some people who hold the same job as myself "are so poor they have had to give up smoking."

"We are whipped and dragged" and "tied to our job day after day."

"I often go from Monday morning to Friday without even seeing my two children."

"We have no time for business, family, sport, gardens, hobbies or anything else."

Any idea what kind of a job this pitiful guy holds? Well, he's a member of Britain's House of Commons. The remarks were made last night by Conservative MP Henry Price in a speech at Yeovil, England.

Distinct Air of Christmas Brightens Markets in Mexico

By EMIL ZUBRYN
(By The Associated Press)
PUEBLA, Mex. — Just before the Yuletide season the markets of Mexico don a Christmas air that has a distinct, beautiful and typically Mexican character, wholly unlike anything else in the world.

In the Valley of Mexico it is the interesting colonial town of Puebla that is famed for its Christmas market, and tourists fortunate enough to be in Mexico make a special trip to see it. More than a week before Christmas day the market blossoms forth in its festive garments, and keeps up a vibrant, noisy, gay activity throughout the holidays which, in Mexico, last until the middle of January.

A number of Puebla's streets, just off the main plaza, become dotted with innumerable booths improvised, as is everything in Mexico, on the spot. Here vendors sell the toys that are traditional and most other Mexican innovations used for the celebration of Christmas.

THE SPECTATOR who strolls between the rows of crowded booths will find predominant Biblical clay figures and little toy animals. These are used to create a nacimiento (representation of the Nativity) and during the Christmas season every home, from the humblest to the richest, has its reproduction of the Bethlehem manger where Christ was born.

Some of the nacimiento are quite elaborate affairs, with those in society homes reproduced in the capital's press; others are very humble. But all contain the essential features of figures of the Holy Family, the Three Wise Men, shepherds, animals, and the Star of Bethlehem.

The market also has dried fish and sweets of all kinds wrapped in brilliant colors; there are tiny baskets woven of fine reeds or made from varicolored and tinselled paper. These are to be filled with miscellaneous hard sweets which also come in all colors of the rainbow.

However, the traditionally Mexican feature are the pinatas, or big oval earthenware jugs of all sizes, dressed in the most picturesque figures created from papier mache and colored paper. It is here that the exuberant, inexhaustible imagination of Mexicans finds its most fantastic expression. The pinata has the similar strong significance that the Christmas tree has to American or European children. Not all homes can afford a tree, but even the poorest save their centavos to have a pinata for the young.

SINCE THE CHRISTMAS season in Mexico begins with nine days of posadas, family parties reenacted the Holy Family's journey to Bethlehem, the celebration actually starts December 16 and winds up January 6, the Day of the Three Wise Men, or Tres Reyes. This latter is primarily a children's holiday and they dress in costume, or in their Sunday best and set out their shoes to be filled with presents by the Wise Men. The Mexican children thus have the equivalent of two Christmases a matter of two weeks apart.

The posadas are charming, gay affairs, and usually a group of families and friends from a procession of "pilgrims" who knock on the door of the home where the party is to be held, and sing a song asking for posada, or shelter for the night. The group left within the home answers with a song that says the place is not an inn and that the travelers must continue on their way. The pilgrims counter by singing that it is Mary, Queen of Heaven, who asks for shelter, and the doors are flung wide open and the pilgrims troop inside.

Then it is that the children's fun and merrymaking begins.

ADA Pledges Ike Cautious Backing

PHILADELPHIA — The National Board of Americans for Democratic Action has pledged support of the incoming Republican administration as long as President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower "honors" his campaign promises.

The ADA has generally supported Democratic candidates and endorsed Adlai E. Stevenson in the recent presidential election.

The origin of oil lamps is lost in antiquity.

Laff-A-Day

"Nothing to be scared of, Miss Prentiss—but my pop told me that if I didn't get better grades around here, someone was in for a good spanking."

Truman Says Nation Facing Inside And Outside Dangers

WASHINGTON — President Truman said today the idea of freedom is in danger not only from Communism but from those who want the government to regulate the mind and spirit.

"The external threat to liberty should not drive us into suppressing liberty at home," he said. "Those who want the government to regulate matters of the mind and spirit are like men who are so afraid of being murdered that they commit suicide to avoid assassination."

The President's remarks were in a speech prepared for historic ceremonies dedicating a new shrine in the national archives for display of the Declaration of Independence, Constitution, and Bill of Rights.

All three documents have been sealed in glass cases specially designed to protect them from deterioration. Under the shrine is a 20-ton safe, with built-in elevators, considered to be impregnable against burglars, fire, bombs or water. The Constitution and the Declaration were moved, under heavy guard, from the Library of Congress on Saturday. The Bill of Rights, ratified 161 years ago today, was already at the archives building.

Truman said all freedom-loving nations face the challenge of Communism and he said any man who isn't alarmed by it "simply doesn't understand the situation — or he is crazy."

"But alarm is one thing, and hysteria is another," he continued. "Hysteria impels people to destroy the very thing they are struggling to preserve."

Truman did not name those he described at one point as persons "who believe it is too dangerous to proclaim liberty throughout all the land to all the inhabitants."

Ike To Be Listed As 34th President

WASHINGTON — Dwight D. Eisenhower, says the committee in charge of inauguration festivities, will be the 34th president of the U. S.

Grover Cleveland served two terms separated by four years, so Eisenhower will be the 33rd man to be president. Government reference books list President Truman as the 33rd president, but the official program for his inauguration in 1949 called him the 32nd.

School Damaged

CINCINNATI — The kitchen and luncheon of the Cheviot public school were damaged heavily by fire of undetermined origin Sunday but school authorities said classes would resume as usual today.

Wage Program Back In Action

Stabilizer Empowered To Act For Dead WSB

WASHINGTON — With 12,000 wage boosts awaiting approval, the government prodded its limping wage stabilization program back into action today to accommodate unions and employers.

Administration of the entire pay controls setup was changed over the week end when President Truman, despairing of getting industry men back into service on the Wage Stabilization Board, turned the problem over to Economic Stabilizer Roger L. Putnam.

Putnam, whose own resignation takes him out of government in a few days, turned the situation over to Chairman Charles C. Killingsworth and three other public members of the WSB. They were empowered to carry on.

Instead of the WSB with equal numbers of members representing the public, industry and labor, Killingsworth and his three public members are to administer wage controls. They asked the labor members to stand by for "advice" in handling future cases.

IT SEEMED probable that, although Putnam held out hope for wooing industry men back to posts on the wage board, pay curbs in the five weeks until the new Republican administration comes into power will be handled by Killingsworth's wholly governmental setup, without formal labor and industry help.

The controversy leading to this situation was set off by Truman's handling of a coal miners' pay increase. He approved all of the miners' negotiated raise after the WSB had approved only part of it.

The industry members resigned, accusing the President of yielding to political expediency.

ed, accusing the President of yielding to political expediency.

Killingsworth seemed likely to tackle a backlog of 12,000 pending union-employer agreements by giving broader delegations of power to the WSB's staff. Well over a million workers are believed to be involved in the cases.

Maxim Says
He's Sure Of Ring Victory

ST. LOUIS (AP)—It's not often light heavyweight champion Joe Maxim will make a prediction on the outcome of any of his fights. But for his Wednesday night title defense against favored Archie Moore, Joe says "I'm going to win."

What brought that optimistic burst from the usual doleful Cleveland was a little incident with Moore a few days ago at a medical examination.

"We're being examined," said the 30-year old champion as he wound up his training with some light gym work Monday, "and some radio announcer says to Moore, 'How to you think you'll do with Maxim Wednesday night?' Well Moore looks down a moment, and then says 'I'm gonna knock him out.'"

"Imagine that," exclaimed Joe. "The nerve of the guy! So the announcer comes to me and says 'watta you think of that?' I told him 'look, if that happens, it won't be the first time.' But I told him 'I've always been told to string along with the champion. That goes double for Moore.'"

The 9 p. m. CST bout will be broadcast and telecast coast to coast except for St. Louis and a 100-mile area around the city.

"IT'S SO EASY TO PLACE A WANT AD."

Charles Wins
Unimpressive
Technical KO

BOSTON (AP)—Ex-heavyweight boxing king Ezzard Charles of Cincinnati—campaigning for another shot at the championship—looked unimpressive Monday night while banging out a seven round technical knockout verdict over big Frankie Buford of Oakland, Calif., in Boston Garden.

Charles landed punches freely on the defensive-minded Californian but connected for only two smashing blows. The first was a savage right to the heart which dropped Buford for a count that reached four as the bell ended round six.

The second was a zinging right hand smash to the head that felled Buford for the madatory 8-count in the seventh. Referee Joe Zupatas stopped the one-sided belting at 2:13 as Buford's second threw in a towel indicating the Californian had taken enough.

Charles admitted afterward that "I wasn't satisfied with what I showed the Boston fans, because I'm a better fighter than that."

Reds Attendance
Up, Profit Down

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds had a gain of 15,929 in home attendance during the 1952 season but the club still wound up with a net loss of $34,706.50.

That was the report by Gabe Paul, vice-president and general manager of the club, at the annual stockholders meeting Monday.

Okie Coach
Raps Free
Throw Ruling

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—The controversial new free throw rule which has been under heavy fire in early season basketball games found an ardent advocate today in Bruce Drake, Oklahoma coach.

He urged critics to look at the advantages of the rule which allows two chances to make a foul shot and eliminates the out-of-bounds option during the final three minutes, forcing a player to take both shots.

Drake, president of the board of the National Basketball Coaches Association, said immed to results have been to:

- 1. Lengthen games.
- 2. Make wholesale fouling more expensive—a major purpose of the rule.
- 3. Benefit a clean-playing team.
- 4. Make it more difficult for fixers to shove points.

Acknowledging the oft-repeated criticism that games are longer—in Oklahoma's case five to six minutes—Drake said that was not argument against the rule. Actual-

Sugar Ray Tipped
To Quit Boxing

NEW YORK (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson is still the middleweight champion today but indications are the converted song and dance man is just a step or two from walking out of the pro boxing picture.

A close friend and adviser of the 160-pound titleholder said Monday Robinson had prepared his retirement announcement and is ready to submit it to Abe Greene, commissioner of the National Boxing Association.

Janowicz Signs

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Catcher Vic Janowicz, former Ohio State University All-America football player, Monday signed a two-year contract with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Janowicz, recently released from Army service with the 37th Infantry Division, plans to work in Elvira before reporting for spring training.

Trojans Pace
Grid Statistics

NEW YORK (AP)—Southern California will present the most astounded defense in the country when the Trojans clash with the Wisconsin Badgers in the New Year's Day Rose Bowl game.

Final NCAA statistics released today show the Trojans' paced all major colleges in frequency and yardage of pass interceptions and in the number and yardage of punt returns.

Would-Be Bomber
Given Sentence

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—A 29-year-old man who tried to plant a time bomb in the Israeli Foreign Office last October was sentenced Sunday to 21 months in prison.

Dov Shilvansky, a former member of the nationalist underground, was arrested Oct. 5 when he carried the ticking bomb into the busy government office. He said he intended it as a warning against acceptance of German reparations for crimes against the Jews in Nazi Germany.

Flood Control
Probing Is Urged

WASHINGTON (AP)—Investigating congressmen recommend a complete re-evaluation of the huge backlog of authorized river, harbor and flood control projects with a view to weeding out those not worth building.

A House public works subcommittee which for the past 15 months has been studying the situation issued its first report yesterday. It criticized congressmen for "pork barrel" practices and Army engineers for not keeping plans up to date and for submitting "deceptive" cost estimates.

Scioto-Sandusky Conservancy Case May Be Near Showdown; Fayette County Opposes Plan

The Sandusky-Scioto Conservancy District controversy relative to the placing of a special three-tenths of a mill levy for further expenses on the tax duplicate of each of the 17 counties in the district, may come up for attention at a scheduled meeting of the common pleas court judges in Columbus Wednesday. These judges act as a controlling board, one judge representing each county of the district.

Fayette County has become actively interested in opposing this levy and also in dissolution of the district. Such action can be taken by the board of judges if they so vote.

The Fayette County Farm Bureau has announced that it will financially and otherwise support legal action to keep the levy from being placed on the tax books of this county.

It is said that a meeting is being scheduled here, probably this week, when Farm Bureau members representing different townships of the county may arrange for a suit to be brought to restrain the county auditor, Ulric Acton, from placing the levy, ordered by the conservancy district, upon the tax duplicate. It is possible that other legal procedure also will be considered.

TWO OTHER counties in the district, Delaware and Union, already have brought action to kill this conservancy plan. When the common pleas judges of the conservancy district hold their annual meeting Wednesday at Columbus, this matter may come up for some attention.

Judge Harry M. Rankin of Fayette County is ill and cannot attend the meeting, but it is reported, he has designated Judge Marion Owens of Champaign County to sit on the board to act in his place. Champaign County is not in the district and Judge Owens has not previously been identified with the board.

The county commissioners of Delaware and Union Counties in a motion filed at Franklin County Court House, asked that the 17-county district be dissolved.

The motion was filed by Clyde E. Lewis, Delaware County prosecutor, and Luther L. Liggett, Union County prosecutor.

Both prosecutors filed a motion before the 17-judge conservancy court last year seeking its dissolution. The court denied the motion at that time and the action was upheld later by the Second District Court of Appeals.

The motion listed six reasons why the conservancy district, formed under the conservancy act of 1934, should be abolished. They are:

1. The conservancy district has not done the job it was supposed to do.
2. The cost of developing the master plan of flood control dams will exceed the benefits.
3. The plan does not fit the requirements of the district.
4. Since the plan calls for the federal government to finance,

Movie And Treat Await Children

Women of the Moose and the Fayette Theater management have combined in planning a pre-Christmas party for the youngsters of the community next Saturday morning.

Hoy O. Simons, who owns the theater has arranged an entertainment with special appeal for boys and girls. It is to be primarily a series of animated cartoons.

The Women of the Moose Lodge here have made plans to complete the big event for the children by passing out treats of candy, oranges and the like. They are to be represented by a Santa Claus.

Everything is free for the youngsters. They are to be the guests of Simons for the motion picture show and of the Women of the Moose when the treats are handed out.

No tickets are necessary, a spokeswoman for the Women of the Moose said Tuesday in announcing the completion of the plans.

The party is for all boys and girls under 15 years of age. Between 350 and 400 youngsters are expected at the party.

construct and operate all reservoirs there is no legal reason for the district to continue.

5. Authorization of a second levy of three-tenths of a mill violates the earlier orders of the conservancy court.

6. Continuation of the conservancy district under the official plan violates the "intent, purposes and provisions of the conservancy act and the laws of Ohio."

The district embraces 17 counties in the watersheds of the Scioto and Sandusky Rivers. The district stretches from Lake Erie to the Ohio River.

Officials of Fayette County, the Farm Bureau and others oppose the conservancy set up on the grounds that Fayette County is being charged with its proportion of the expense but that the county would receive no benefit from the project if it ever was carried out.
